Theses in the format name-surname.doc (for example, O.A. Shevchenko.docx) should be added in the appropriate section of the registration.

To the attention of the students of VNMU only theses signed by the head of the department can be accepted for publication!

That is why it is necessary to place theses (in text format) + a screenshot/scan/photo of the theses written by the head of the department in a single file.

Please note that all submitted theses will be analyzed for similarity in the StrikePlagiarism.com Anti-Plagiarism Internet System.

The minimum percentage of uniqueness of theses text for admission to publication in the conference collection is 70%.

The text of theses in the name-surname.docx format must be formatted in accordance with the following requirements:

Requirements for the design of the header (12 pin, in the center):

1. Authors of the work (initials before the last name, full name of the speaker, if there is a co-author, emphasize the last name of the speaker).
2. The title of the work (in capital letters, bold).
3. Name of the department.
4. Research supervisor (initials before the last name, scientific degree and position in parentheses).
5. Institution of higher education, city of study, country.

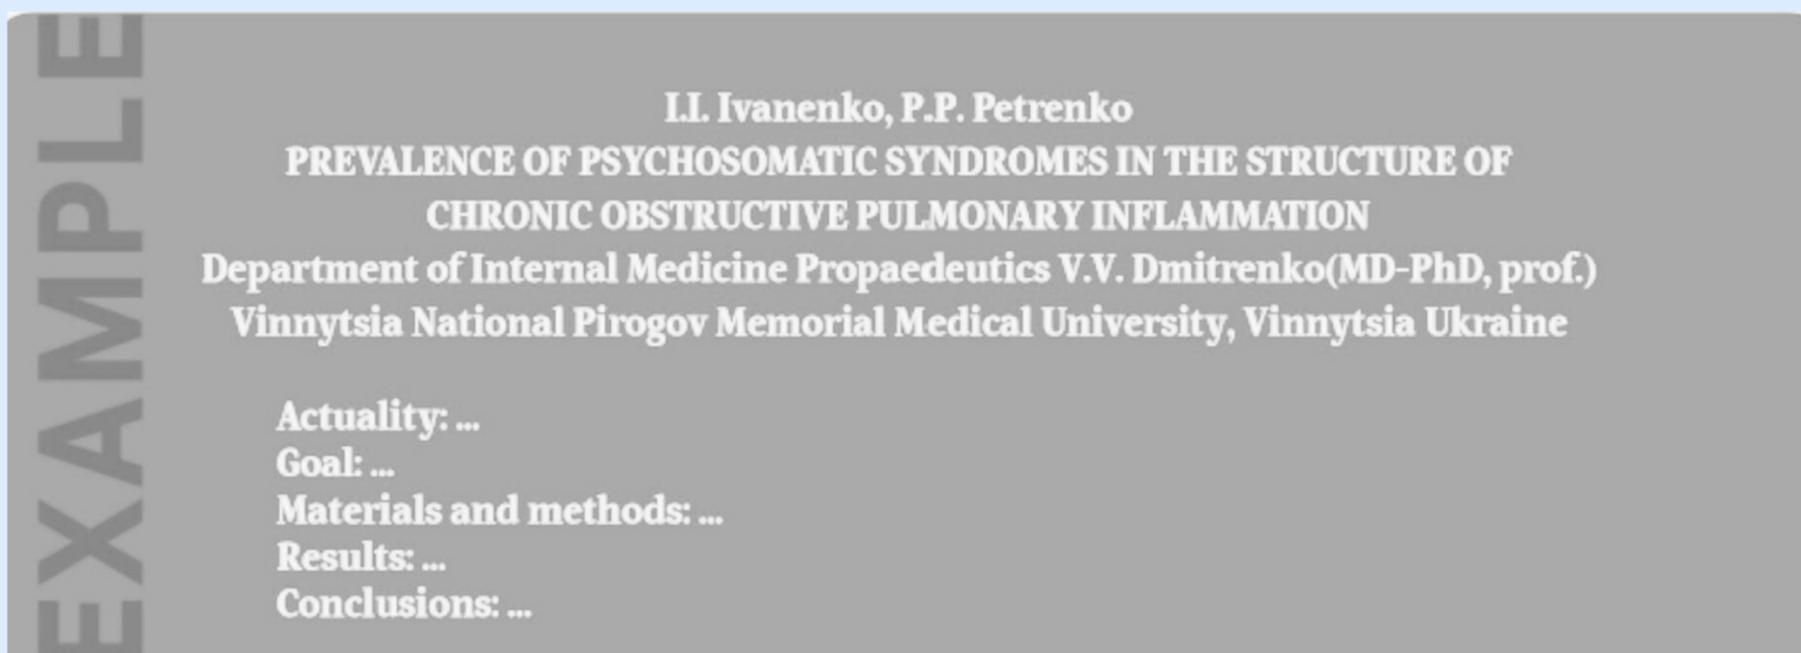

Requirements for text design:

- The length of theses (without a title) should be within 3000 characters, including spaces and punctuation marks, aligned across the width, without indenting the first line. Font - Times New Roman, 12 pin. Line spacing - 1.0. Margins on all sides - 2 cm.
- The structure of the printed work should include relevance, purpose, materials and methods, results, conclusions, highlighted in separate paragraphs, in bold.
- The printed work should not contain tables, formulas, graphs.
- The work must not have been published before.

For 1 participant, the number of scientific publications (theses) should not exceed 3 (including co-authorship) or 2 within the framework of one DIRECTION (including co-authorship). The organizing committee is not responsible for stylistic and spelling errors.

An example of theses design

We draw your attention to the fact that, in the case of violations of the principles of academic integrity or non-compliance with the design requirements, the organizing committee has the right to refuse the publication of the theses

Materials should be sent by February 22, 2024

Forms of participation	Price for students of VNMU and guests of the conference from higher education institutions
Oral report and publication of theses - presentation of the report at the scientific section in online format, participant's certificate	Free
Publication of theses	Free

We draw your attention to the fact that the XXI Student Scientific Conference with international participation "The First Step in Science - 2024" does not provide for the formation of a participant's package in connection with terms of wartime conditions on the territory of Ukraine - instead, all materials of the conference will be available online to all interested parties and sent to the participants of the conference.
